Invitation from the Whigs of Baltimore to the Whigs of the Union.

To the Whigs of the Union:

The undersigned have been directed by the Whig City Convention of Baltimore to solicit the attendance of their fellow-Whigs from all parts of the Union at the meeting of the National Convention, on the 16th June.

The invitation which they are instructed to extend is on behalf, not only of those whom they immediately represent, but of the body of the Whigs of Maryland. On memorable occasions heretofore our fellow-Whigs have honored us by assembling here in council. We are not aware that any have had cause to tax us with the lack of cordial welcome.

If kindly intercourse and the interchange of opinions and good offices have contributed on for mer occasions to strengthen the bonds of good fellowship, such consequences, more than ever, must follow from them now. The thought that the Union has been in danger must make the feeling of brotherhood more warm, when brethren of all sections, in the name of the Union, are met to consult for its continued preservation.

Let our fellow-Whigs, then, from all quarters, bring themselves among us. Let their delegations be numerous, enthusiastic, and confident. The inspiration of their presence will give the vigor of triumph to the first blow of the fight.

E. S. THOMAS, WM. H. TRAVERS. G. F. SABLE. L. JARRETT, JAMES C. NINDE. SAMUEL MCCUBBIN, RICHARD. T. MERRICK, EDWARD HICKLEY, R. B. CLARKE, SHEPPARD A. LEAKIN,

The Whig papers throughout the Union are requested to give a prominent place to this invitation as soon as received. BALTIMORE, May 31, 1852.

Politics in Georgia.

We learn that a State convention, representing the Whigs of Georgia, assembled at Milledgeville on Tuesday last, and appointed delegates to the Whig National Convention. The delegates were instructed to support Mr. Fillmore for President, and to require the endorsement of the Compromise measures by the Convention before proceeding to vote upon a nomination.

The Republic of this morning, however, states that it was a convention of the Union Whites of Georgia. What the Disunion Whigs of that State are doing, we are not informed!

A brief while ago, the Republic, the New York Express, and some other journals of kindred affections, talked of the Union party of Georgiabelieving that they held Cobb. Foote, et omnes, in the same net that had caught themselves; but now we hear only of the Union Whigs. Why Union Whigs, we cannot make out. There has surely been some sort of a stampede in this Union nearer to its original party lines.

For us the Whig party is sufficient-we desire

It is said, indeed, that Mr. Fillmore stands on wrote a letter in denunciation of Mr. Tyler, and among other things said he regarded Mr. Tyler's conduct as "an additional proof that our only proposed coalitionists themselves. . security against treachery and inordinate am-'bition is found in the one-term principle," as "that takes away all inducement in the Execu-' tive to use his power to secure a re-election."

We think with Mr. Fillmore on this subject. An administration should not be tempted to the prostitution of its powers for the purpose of securing a President's re-election.

Intervention, or Non-Interventiont It was stated in our paper yesterday that the Democratic platform embraced a scrap from every source; but there appears to be one important omission. The Richmond Whig remarks that "upon the grave and momentous question of intervention we have not a word. From the eagerness with which Cass and Douglas endorsed the nomination, we presume the whole foreign policy of the government from the days of Washington is to be subverted. The strange phraseology of the last resolution gives countenance to this supposition.'

The Auction Business.

It will be perceived that Mr. E. N. STRATTON, who is well and favorably known to the whole business public, has commenced the auction business on his own account in this city. To every requisite qualification he superadds the advantages of twenty years' experience in this line

General Scott and the Freesoilers.

There are certain parties in the South who oppose the nomination of Gen. Scott because, as favorite of the Freesoilers and Abolitionists of the North. The true friends of Gen. Scott, both North and South, know that he is a Compromise man-that he is national in all his acts and sympathies. He knows no North, no South-nothing but his country. The Scott men of the North stand by him on account of his nationality, and because of his devotion to Whig principles. The Freesoil partisans intend to oppose him. We have before us the Boston Commonwealth of the 9th instant, the acknowledged organ of the New England Freesoilers, in which there is a call for convention of the party, and also a leading article from which we make the following extract:

"The Whig party has yet to make its nominations. Its platform may not be openly avowed; but, whether avowed or not, it is perfectly certain that on the subject of slavery it will be identical with that of the Democrats. There will, doubtless, be an attempt, perhaps a successful one, to get Gen. Scott nominated without any declaration of principle—at least on the subject of slavery In that case he will show one face to the South and another to the North. We shall oppose him, whether he shows only his Southern face or whether he shows both his Southern and his Northern face. We have little confidence in him under any guise or disguise, and we have still less confidence in his art-ful and ambitious managers at Washington."

We call the particular attention of the Southern Whigs who oppose the nomination of General Scott to the above. From it they can learn what the Freesoil leaders think of Gen. Scott, and how they regard him and his friends in the North. He is supported as a Whig by the Whigs, and they will stand by him and will labor to secure his election, because he has stood by his country and his party, and has upheld the banner of his country in many a well-fought field.

Mesers. Fillmore and Webster.

We learn from very reliable authority that when it was found that the mountain would not go to Mahomet, Mahomet went to the mountain: and, if it was necessary that they should meet, we think the step he took, or the succession of steps, was judicious and philosophical. So, also, at the present time, it appears to be an ascertained fact that Mr. Webster and his friends have made no effort to approach to the support of Mr. Fillmore; and we accordingly find, if we are not seriously mistaken, that that distinguished citizen and his friends are inclining their steps toward Mr. Webster. How high the mountain will be elevated by this accession of supporters, we know not. It may be that many gentlemen supposed to be in the train of Mr. Fillmore will lag behind and fall into the ranks of a more fortunate leader. We at all events stand undismayed and prepared for the contest. "Come one, come all," is our shout of welcome. Beat us if you can: and if fairly, we shall have no murmurs to utter, no reproaches to breathe.

The Water-Cure.

Mr. Austin Gray, bookseller, 7th street, near Odd-Fellows' Hall, has presented to us a work entitled "The Illustrated Hydropathic Encyclopedia," &c., by R. T. Trall, M. D. It is in two 12mo. volumes, substantially bound, and published at $2.50, by Fowlers & Wells, 131 Nassau street, New York, and 142 Washington street,

J. M. Berrien.

The private calendar was postponed till one o'clock. Mr. Hunter reported back the navy and the nvalid pension appropriation bills, and they were onsidered and passed. A bill regulating the payment of awards under the commission to examine claims under the treaty with Brazil was reported, taken up, and passed. The bill granting further remedies to patentees was taken up, and, after amendment, was further postponed. Mr. Archison then moved the private calendar be postponed for an executive session, and, after debate, the motion was agreed to.

House of Representatives .- The House refused to lay upon the table the motion to reconsider the vote by which, on yesterday, the bill granting the right of way and a donation of public lands to aid in the construction of railroads in Florida and Alabama was laid upon the table.

The House then reconsidered the vote: but efore the question was finally disposed of, the morning hour expired.

The House, in Committee of the Whole on the tate of the Union, resumed the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill. General Scott's Religious Belief.

The Boston Bee, a zealous Webster journal, in assigning the reasons why the people of Massachusetts will not support General Scott, says: "There is a very strong prejudice against him on account of his religious belief!"

The Bee does not tell us what that belief is: but we have learned, with much surprise, from other sources, that one of the charges circulated with a view to excite the prejudices of a portion of the voters of the United States against General Scott, is, that he is a Roman Catholic. While, as Protestants of no doubtful dye, and friends of universal toleration, which we regard as essential to the preservation of our free institutions, we olemnly protest against the introduction of any religious tests in political matters, we are enabled to state that this great and good man is a Protestant Episcopalian, and attends divine worship egularly in St. John's Church, under the pastoral charge of the Rev. Smith Pyne, in this city. It is believed that a daughter of General Scott, who had been educated in France, became a member of the Roman Catholic Church some years since; but certainly it cannot be alleged as a fault in an affectionate American parent that he should permit a cherished child to adopt the religious faith most congenial to her con-

In connexion with the above charge, it has been stated that, while in Mexico, General Scott bore a candle in a religious procession! Without intending to attach undue importance to so ridiculous a charge, and without knowing or caring whether it is true or false, we would simply remark that, situated as the commander of the American army was at the time-bearing the sword in one hand and the olive-branch in the other-it was his true policy to conciliate the affections of the people whom he had so gallantly conquered, by any concessions to their religious prejudices not inconsistent with the principles of the faith of the Saviour of all men. To this may be added the fact that many, very many, of the gallant soldiers who composed the army of Gen. Scott, and had borne the American standard in triumph over the battle-fields of Mexico, were Roman Catholics, and as such were entitled to any mark of respect to their religion which could be shown by their beloved chief.

PROSPECTUS

RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.

In the third week of June, 1852, will be comnenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly Campaign Newspaper, under the above title.

It will be devoted to the maintenance of genuine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States; to the preservation of the NATIONAL Union, and of the Rights of the States and the RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE under that Union: and in an especial manner to the election of GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT, as the nominee of the Whig National Convention, to the Presidency of this Republic.

It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a man around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor. and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country, will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages upon their honored fellow-citizen-the hero, the patriot, and sage—and to proclaim THE GRATITUDE OF A REPUBLIC!

TERMS:

THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE will be published once a week-from the third week of June until the third week of November-at fifty cents.

Postmasters and others acting as voluntary agents, who may send five or more names, are authorized to reserve twenty-five per cent. for their trouble, or the advantage of this deduction may be shared by all the members of a club; and for each ten subscribers, on these terms, an eleventh

The notes of all specie-paying banks, gold, silver, and letter-stamps, will be received in payment. Address.
